A-Rod's Growing Up, Moving Out

Our little A-Rod's all grew up. The Yankees star is leaving his apartment at 15 Central Park West for fairer real estate — and he's buying, not renting. Rodriguez had been spending $30,000 a month on the unit, but felt that it wasn't "private enough."

To remedy that, he purchased a five-bedroom penthouse — priced around $6 million — at the Rushmore, an Upper West Side building at 80 Riverside Boulevard. In case you were wondering.

It's unclear whether Cameron Diaz — Rodriguez's blonde Hollywood star of the moment — will be moving in, too. But perhaps hand-feeding a man popcorn is truly the way to his heart: A source who toured apartments with the couple said Diaz was asking questions as if she planned on moving in with him. Seal that deal, lady.
